What About Wages?
4 Corrections, 135 Phases

By Arthur Brisbane

"TERRIBLE NEWS" comes from Honduras, headlines screaming "Northern Honduras cut off. Thirty-one killed in battle. Communication ceases."

Then your memory goes back a few years to dispatches read when we were shipping our men to Europe by the millions, and our dollars by the billions.

You remember that one single exploding shell would kill more than "10 dead" and one poison gas bomb might ruin the lives of hundreds.

Lucky Honduras.

France is shipping gold to the United States, and our Reserve Bank is struggling "to curb the gold influx." Shipments of gold here improve Europe's financial health, raising the exchange value of the pound and the franc. England said it can live for $6 a day and union workers to whom it paid $12 a year ago. And they are hiring men to work hard for 30 cents an hour.

The Federal Reserve bank of New York reduces its bill buying rates to the lowest levels in history to stop the gold influx, forcing dealers in bankers' acceptance to slash their rates, and indicating a cut in the discount rate.

All this is pleasant for those who borrow money on call to do their speculating. It makes you wonder what "financial and the gold standard" really mean.

Wise men who meet at directors' meetings ask each other: "What do you think about liquidating wages?" Liquidating means cutting down. The question is superfluous, for wages are being liquidated rapidly now. A man who put up a building for this writer a year ago offered to put up another like it for much less "because I can live for $6 a day and union workers to whom it paid $12 a year ago. And they are hiring men to work hard for 30 cents an hour."

There is something for men of influence to think about, before urging wage reduction. Every dollar cut out of the top of the wage scale will come out of someone's pocket.

However, little you pay, the men must eat. But they are not obliged to work, either, unless they have vacuum cleaners, theater tickets.

If you want a REAL depression, cut about fifteen billion dollars a year off the total U. S. A. payroll.

Wall Street was up, and yesterday morning. Nobody had any more than a few dollars. And think of this heart-breaking headline: "300 million dollars offered for anybody that wanted the money at 1 per cent interest, and nobody could think of anything to do with it, or wanted to borrow it. Two years ago call money cost 15, and even 20 per cent."

This is the latest Wall Street story, reflecting the "trend." It comes from Kuhn, Loeb, where they are glad they never started an investment trust.

"Yes, I heard about it, but you haven't got it quite right. It wasn't Thompson. It was Johnson. It wasn't Johnson. It was copper. It was $10,000,000. It was $10,000,000 and he didn't make it. He lost it."

Russians take a good many things seriously to which we pay comparatively little attention here. Some 90,000 have been expelled from the Bolshevik party, some because they are "immoral," others because they are friends of Trotsky.

If you are cheating the government, to Russia, they stand you up and shoot you down. If you commit murder, they stand you to jail for 10 years.

In this country, if you cheat the government you often go to Europe on a yacht. You always do it if you cheat on a big enough scale.

If you commit murder, you are punished summarily, not after a trial. You would be surprised to know how few were punished for the last 5000 murders committed in the United States.

Four corrections. Speaking of useful work done by reporters, the writer wrote "outspeaks" do NOT take the place of other doctors. The "not" was omitted in various versions.

Referring to the extremely important Diesel airplane engine developed by the Packard company, which weighs 331 pounds per horsepower, the weight was pictured as 33 pounds per horsepower, which, of course, would make it impossible for a plane to operate.

THIEF FEELS ANGRY AT AUTO TAG

Curley Returns His Parking Slip to the "Assistant" Police Commissioner

Mayor Curley was angry today when he learned that a first time ticket in the parking lot started by the police promptly placed a return slip at the door of Leo Schwartz, whom he characterized as a "constant commission of the crime."

Plainly indignant at the giving of his machine in Providence St., while he was being charged, the mayor declared it resulted from the removal from the zoning board of Schwartz, legal adviser to Police Commissioner Hultman.

On returning to his office he sent the tag to police headquarters with a letter in an envelope addressed to "Assistant Police Commissioner Leo Schwartz."

He declared he would "take care" of Patrolman John P. Dolan, who tagged the mayor's car under orders from Capt. Martin King of Division 2.

TAGGED AS HE SAVED
As it happened the incident was staged at the scene of the trouble which resulted in the removal of the mayor declared it resulted from the removal from the zoning board of Schwartz, legal adviser to Police Commissioner Hultman.

FOKKER'S BOOK

WHERE DID HE GET ALL HIS INFORMATION?

Flying Dutchman Besieged by Reporters Looking for More Comment

New York, April 24 (AP)—The Riverside Drive apartment of Anthony H. G. Fokker, "The Flying Dutchman," as he calls himself in his autobiography, just swarmed today with reporters, all seeking from his own lips some further words from the airplane maker amplifying his comment on Rear Admiral Richard B. Byrd.

Fokker's book, written in collaboration with Bruce Gould, criticized Byrd's technique in his transatlantic flight, and praised the skill of Bernt Balchen, both as a pilot and navigator on some of Byrd's most famous flights. Byrd so far has declined to comment on the book.

The book said that Byrd might have flown to Paris ahead of the "nonscientific Lindbergh" if he had not delayed what Fokker regarded as an unnecessarily long time. "Bernt Balchen took over both navigation and piloting when they reached France," Fokker wrote, "and brought the ship over Paris in a dense fog. He saw one or two flashes of a beacon, but lost them immediately and realized it was impossible to find Le Bourget or attempt a landing. Byrd seemed confused and struggled for possession of a revolver which he carried in a physical wreck; Nettle, by dancing his radio, had destroyed his sole usefulness."

Through the black night, whipped by storms, Balchen steered resolutely back to the coast. He communicated with Byrd by notes. Balchen's comment on Fokker's description of the flight today was: "I don't know where they got all this information. When I asked him, he just grinned at me. But I'll say this. There are no mistakes in it."

Acosta Says Fokker Must Be Getting Old

New York, April 24 (AP)—Bert Acosta, pilot of Acosta's Flying Dutchman, said today that Fokker's transatlantic flight, made the following comment today on Anthony Fokker's autobiography, "The Flying Dutchman": "Fokker's methods are criticized."

TREMOR FELT ON WEST COAST

Los Angeles, April 24 (INS)—Los Angeles was slightly shaken by two earth tremors today. The shocks were about two seconds apart.

Residents of the district four miles southeast of the metropolitan center ran from their homes. The shocks were distinctly felt in the metropolitan area. They were also felt at San Pedro, Los Angeles harbor, 10 miles south of the city.

Chico, in the Imperial Valley, was shaken by an earthquake of moderate intensity yesterday afternoon.

The quake was recorded at the Carnegie seismological laboratory at Pasadena.

Dr. E. Richter, in charge of the laboratory, said: "It appears to be a local quake in the Los Angeles basin."

Richter said the center of the shock probably was at Baldwin Hills, 10 miles southeast of the metropolitan area.

3 Sentenced in Dracut Rum Case

Suspended sentences of one year and a day were imposed on three men in Federal court today after they had pleaded guilty and the others found guilty of violation of the national prohibition act.

An additional fine of $500 was imposed on Albert Roy of Lowell after he pleaded guilty. James A. Lowell ordered a verdict of guilty in the case of the two defendants, Henry Tessier of Lowell and Grover Oliver of Somerville. The trio were arrested following a Dracut raid when 600 gallons of liquor were seized.

Two Seek Divorce in Dedham Court

Petitions for divorce were filed at Norfolk County Probate Court in Dedham on charges of cruel and abusive treatment today by Mrs. Frances Keniston Van Knor of Brookline and Mrs. Aureli C. Shattuck of Weymouth. Mrs. Van Knor was married to Hann Van Knor at Bristol, R. I., October 31, 1926. Mrs. Shattuck was married to George E. Shattuck of Dorset, Ct., June 30, 1924.

PRINCESS KIKUKO

A pair of royal honeymooners, Prince Takamatsu and Princess Kikuko of Japan, smiled their way into the hearts of all Bostonians today, the second day of their visit to the city. Following a visit to the State House, the royal Japanese couple visited City Hall, where they were received by Mayor Curley. It was their second greeting with the mayor, who, with his daughter, Mary, welcomed the Prince and Princess when they arrived here last night. A heavy police guard accompanied the royal couple on their tour of the city. (Staff photo.)

BOY, 8, KILLED IN FIGHT OVER GUN

Step Falls, Me., April 24 (AP)—Two brothers, 8 and 11 years old, were killed in a fight over a gun in their home today, the weapon was discharged and the younger fell mortally wounded. Linwood Graffan, the older boy, put the gun in the bookcase where it was kept, carried the lifeless body of his brother, Wilbur, into the back yard of the home, and went to school as usual.

The body was discovered later by a relative. Under questioning by County Atty. Walter M. Tapley, Jr., and Dr. B. A. Center, the older boy maintained he knew nothing of the shooting but a little later in conversation with his widowed mother, he broke down and related the story.

The quake was recorded at the Carnegie seismological laboratory at Pasadena.

Dr. E. Richter, in charge of the laboratory, said: "It appears to be a local quake in the Los Angeles basin."

Richter said the center of the shock probably was at Baldwin Hills, 10 miles southeast of the metropolitan area.

BIG BRKERAGE FIRM SUSPENDS

New York, April 24 (AP)—Pynchon & Company was suspended from membership in the New York Stock Exchange today for insolvency.

Announcement of the suspension of the firm, which holds memberships in 13 other security and commodity markets in the United States and abroad, was made from the rotunda of the exchange about 2:20 o'clock this afternoon.

"Pending an audit, no definite statement of assets and liabilities can be made. Even with the existing abnormally low prices of securities the value for assets is potentially equal to the liabilities," said a company announcement.

It was reported on financial news tickers that the firm had loans of about $2,000,000.

Headed by George M. Pynchon, the firm's 21 partners, residing in New York, Chicago and England, Salomon headquarters are in Boston, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Richmond, Va.

300 Strike Against Efficiency Experts

Lowell, April 23 (AP)—Three hundred employees of the Massachusetts Motor Fuel Company left work today in protest against the presence of efficiency men in the plant. They claimed their wages had been cut down under the efficiency system. The leaders of the workers were immediately called into conference with Randall B. Boulton, agent of the company.

On a good piece of real estate, but it was not the one he wanted, he left it to his wife. The one he wanted was the one he wanted.

SPAIN TO VOTE JUNE 21

Windesore, Eng., April 24 (AP)—Alfonso de Spain was revealed at Windesore Castle today by King George. The Vatican State announced recognition to the new Spanish Republic today.

Madrid, April 24 (AP)—The provincial Republican government of Spain laid its plans today for national parliamentary elections June 21, the resulting assembly to be the first cortes Spain will have known in eight years.

Since the issue will be a clear cut "Republic or Monarchy" the elections will give the dethroned Alfonso the answer which, when he left Madrid, he said he would ask in exile—whether his people wish him to return to power or not.

The assembly to be elected will be a "constituent cortes" or constitutional convention and determine the exact form the new government is to take.

Word was received here today from Tokyo that Japan has recognized the new Republic.

The government announced today that it was satisfied with progress in its campaign to prevent reorganization of Spanish capital. During Thursday alone it received 133 telegrams from various banks in the provinces promising complete cooperation with its moves in this direction.

Cousin of Alfonso Would Be Next King

Paris, April 24 (AP)—Don Jaime de Bourbon-Anjou, a cousin of the dethroned Alfonso, the fifth of Spain, was named today as the next king of Spain.

"Remember," he said, "I am always ready to help Spain avoid anarchy."

Don Jaime asked the Spanish people to declare in the approaching elections their preference for the republic or monarchy, and invited them to favor the latter, said that the republican monarchy need have no relations with the former regime, but could be "renewed, progressive and decentralized."

"My desire is to have a king head the federation of Spain," he said. "A king above parties. Even the Republicans admit that a great part of the Spanish people favor the monarchy. It is just to suppress the monarchy because one king does not know how to make his people love him."

Wilcox Mining Stock Worthless

Middletown, Conn., April 24 (INS)—Mrs. Minnie C. Wilcox, of Indianapolis, is the sole heir of the late Dwight E. Wilcox's estate.

An inventory filed here today disclosed that 14,000 shares of sorted mining stocks have no value. Mrs. Wilcox will receive about $5,000 from the estate.

Gale and Fire Sweep U. S. Forests; 4 Killed

Portland, Ore., April 24 (INS)—Millions of dollars damage was done in the Mount Hood and Des Chutes national forests by heavy gales and fires the last two days. Damage to crops in Oregon, Washington and Idaho will also run high. Four persons were killed and at least 12 injured by the storms.

Blow Loses Her

Friends asserted that this was the fifth attempt the stock broker had made at self-destruction in the last year. Precautions were exercised to prevent the circumstances becoming public. Dr. Henry C. Fleming, the family physician who attended him, announced the cause of death as acute uremia and scotched the suicide suggestion.

But the report of Medical Examiner Gonzales last night stated tersely:

"Mercury poisoning—suicide. 'I don't know why I did it—I was a chump—a damned fool—but I did it.'"

Chemical analysis revealed a large quantity of poison in Donahue's kidney it was announced today. Dr. Alexander C. Geller, and Dr. Harry Schwartz, city toxicologists said the amount of poison was so large that death was inevitable.

New York, April 24 (INS)—"The Flying Dutchman," in which Donahue, husband of the Woolworth heiress. He died in Harbor hospital after swallowing poison. No motive, except the conventional explanation of dependency caused by ill-health, was offered for the deed.

Steamer Hits Dust Storm 550 Miles Out in Pacific

San Francisco, April 24 (AP)—Ending in a unique manner as it started, storm which routed a well advanced spring from the Pacific coast and states adjoining was well on its way to sea today, pushing before it a huge dust cloud.

The liner Maui, 550 miles out from San Francisco, radioed it had passed through a heavy yellowish powder resembling volcanic ash. Edward H. Bowers of the Weather Bureau said it was dust from the storm which swept the coast.

Winds carried away seed wheat from thousands of acres in eastern Washington.

First sipped buds, fruit districts of Washington, causing damage estimated by officials at $1,000,000.

FILIER RED IN NEGLIGENCE CASE

William "Red" Ruff Weightman, 24, former Lafayette Escadrille flier, automobile racer, movie actor and once each convicted for moonshining and bigamy, was arrested today in Philadelphia for non-support of his two-year-old daughter, Ramona Rene Weightman of MalDEN.

The warrant was sworn out by his third wife, Mrs. Charlotte Weightman of Lebanon at MalDEN, with whom, less than four years ago, he planned to fly across the Pacific.

According to word from Philadelphia, the non-support warrant was issued on complaint of wife No. 1 in April, 1928. When arrested, Weightman said he had been working on a ranch in Arizona and only recently arrived at the Philadelphia lodging house where he was taken into custody.

Weightman was only 19 when, in 1913, the red-haired daredevil who later won renown on the motor sports—when he had Eddie Rickenbacker as his rival.

He eloped in that year with Miss Margaret McCarty of Shelbyville, Tenn., and Bag Harbor, N. Y. Then, without benefit of divorce, he is alleged to have married Lucy J. McCarty of Endicott, N. Y., and later, in the same manner, to have married a Mexican girl named Julia.

His prison term at Auburn followed an arrest for spending when, he told police, he was on his way to a person to marry another girl. After his release from prison, he cleared his marital entanglements to marry the present Mrs. Weightman.

MOTHER WINS CHILD, DECREE

The influence of his mother's house was much better on him than her mother's home, Mrs. Helen Carroll, pretty mother, testified today in Suffolk Probate Court, where Judge Joseph R. McCool granted her a decree nisi in uncontested session.

Mrs. Carroll of Main St., South Weymouth, mother of a four-year-old child, whose custody she was given, charged cruel and abusive treatment against Patrick Carroll of Osborn St., Roxbury.

In her testimony, Mrs. Carroll, married on July 18, 1925, declared that while Patrick struck and abused her when they were living at her mother's home for a year and a half, he failed to touch her while living for six months in his mother's home.

"He slapped me and struck me at my mother's home in Buckman St., Dorchester," she testified. "After we were married we lived six months at his mother's home. Then we lived at my mother's home for a year and a half."

"He was much worse at my mother's home than he was at his mother's."

'Big Bill' in Fight for Waterway Control

Chicago, April 24 (AP)—The Chicago Herald and Examiner today reported that former Mayor William Hale Thompson said that he did not intend to return from Chicago politics.

"Big Bill" as he is known, following his return from a waterway tour, he had started after his defeat for mayor by Anton J. Cermak, opened up offices from which he said he would conduct a campaign for waterway and flood control.

Arrest of Two Bares Panama Revolt Plot

Colon, Panama, April 24 (INS)—Captain Alejandro Riano, chief of police of the province of Los Santos, and Judge Miguel A. Gonzalez, arrested today charged with subversive activities against the government.

The charges were reported based on the alleged spread of counter-revolutionary propaganda.

BODY WILL BE EXAMINED BY DR. MAGRATH

Bay State Officials Sure They Will Bare Vital Evidence in Case

By JAMES J. SMITH
Fall River, April 24—An attempt by Rhode Island officials to withhold from the public the details of the exhumation and second autopsy on the body of Verna Russell, slain student nurse, was learned by the Boston Evening American today.

The fact that the girl's body would be exhumed and a second autopsy performed, as exclusively revealed in the Boston Evening American more than a week ago, was confirmed yesterday by both Rhode Island and Massachusetts officials.

Atty-Gen. Benjamin McManis concurred in the insistence of Massachusetts officials that the body be exhumed and an autopsy performed by Dr. George B. Magrath.

INSISTS ON SECRECY

It has been learned that Magrath insists on the absolute secrecy of the exhumation and autopsy. It is known that the exhumation will take place some time within the next 48 hours.

Atty-Gen. McManis is said to be anxious to maintain secrecy because the reasons behind the Massachusetts officials' insistence on a second autopsy constitute a sweeping indictment of the Rhode Island investigation into the murder of the pretty nurse.

Massachusetts officials assert that the exhumation and the subsequent autopsy by Dr. Magrath will unearth new evidence against the nurse's murder.

Elliot Hinkley, charged with the nurse's murder, was arrested at Fall River, April 24.

MAYOR FURIOUS WHEN AUTO IS TAGGED

shop, his favorite toning emporium, for his morning shave. Because of a line of trucks against the curb, Mayor Curley entered the shop to be shaved.

"STAYS THE BOLONY" "According to eye-witnesses, the big machine had stood less than 10 minutes when Officer Dolan appeared."

"You can't park here," he said to Manlen.

The chauffeur explained the car was the mayor's, to which the policeman replied:

"That's the bolony. Here's a tag for you."

He handed over the ticket and Manlen hurried into the shop where he informed his son of the occurrence.

The mayor was considerably worked up, declaring the tagging to be a political one, which he was expected earlier.

"Understandably," he said, "Schwartz gave orders to tag my car yesterday, and the tag is a day late."

When he stepped on the sidewalk to re-enter the machine, Officer Dolan approached Mayor Curley, apparently with an apology, but was waved away.

Officer Dolan later said he did not know the machine as that of Mayor Curley.

However, chauffeur Manlen declared he informed the officer the car was that of the mayor, and that Charles O'Brien, proprietor of the barbershop, also had told him the machine was the mayor's.

Officer Dolan said he was not tagging the car because it was the mayor's.

"That's too bad."

MAYOR SENDS LETTER The letter accompanying the tag, sent to headquarters by the mayor, follows:

"Assistant Police Commissioner Leo Schwartz,

"Police Headquarters, 154 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.:

"Dear Sir:—I beg to forward with my compliments the tag placed upon the automobile of the Mayor of Boston this day within one minute and one-half after the automobile had entered a stop."

"I do not hold the officer, No. 234, responsible for this act, since I am satisfied that he was simply carrying out orders that had been received by him from you as assistant police commissioner."

"It is most unfortunate that the tagging was delayed, as my desire was simply to give you, to your apologetic, the return of your resignation as a member of the board of zoning adjustment."

"The tagging is a day late. Consequently I am returning it with my compliments. Respectfully,

"James M. Curley, Mayor."

The tag is No. A1214. The officer's name signed to it is J. F. Dolan. The time and place given is 9:23 a. m. Providence St.

Asked just what he meant by "a day late," the mayor said:

"He should have tried to get even yesterday."

The final word on the incident was delivered by Traffic Commissioner Conroy. When the affair was described to him he smiled, declined his last, and remarked:

"It's a nice day."

The Schwartz letter of resignation, dated yesterday, read:

"Dear Mr. Mayor:—Inasmuch as the corporation owned is of the opinion that the best interests of the city require that a representative of the law department serve as a member of the board of no reason why such threats should be made.

He asked the Emperor not to be alarmed at news dispatches of the reported plot.

In Boston only 12 hours, Prince Takamatsu informed his brother of his high regard for the city and said the reception accorded him was the warmest received in the United States.

CURLEYS AT HOTEL The royal party went to the State House at 11 o'clock for the reception by the Governor.

They had a light early breakfast in their suite—American breakfast of orange juice, toast and eggs but differing in the respect that they drank tea instead of coffee.

Before leaving the hotel, Consul General Ramsford Stevens Miller, representing the State Department, and Mrs. Francis Slatkany and Maj. Edward J. Sampson, representing Gov. Ely, joined the party.

A crowd of about 200 persons cheered the party as it left the hotel for the State House in several motorcars, escorted by details of motorcycle policemen. At the entrance of the Prince, the party added by traffic signals on order.

At the State House, Secretary DeWolf had ordered the Governor's office cleared, and among those who left on the order was Capt. George A. Parker, motor vehicle registrar.

LEGISLATORS APPLAUD Four State troopers met the Prince and Princess at the State House entrance and escorted them to the executive chamber. Present were Col. Terrell Ragan and Maj. Paul Kirk of the Governor's staff.

Mayor Michael J. O'Neill of Everett and Courtney Crocker, head of the Boston Japan Society.

Fourteen additional troopers as well as the registered Japanese guards were on duty during the visit.

President Bacon of the Senate and Speaker Saltonstall of the House.

House were present at the reception. "I am delighted to welcome you to Massachusetts," Governor Ely said the Japanese.

Mrs. Slatkany presented the prince with a gold watch and a brand new pocket-square in a velvet case.

The old adage that in presenting a sharp instrument as a gift one must always present a penny as guarantee that the friendship is not void.

THEY ACT AS MAYOR President Bacon escorted the Prince and Princess to the Senate chamber where they took seats in the podium. The Prince at the prince's right and the Princess at his left.

Before going to City Hall, the royal couple admired the Hall of Plumes.

Both Prince Takamatsu and Princess Kikuko were for a few seconds, in turn, acting mayor of Boston. Mayor Curley relinquished his chair to each.

They are now acting mayor and you can have everything except the salary," he told the Princess.

Both signed the guests' gold book and received keys to the city. The mayor kept them amused and smiling. To the prince he presented a framed photograph of the party taken on arrival.

The mayor invited the prince and princess to participate tomorrow in Boston's observance of Arbor Day at Boston Common exercises and to plant two Japanese ginkgo-biloba trees.

The prince will plant a sakaki tree. The mayor will plant a sakaki tree.

During a day of receptions and fevers, which will culminate with a dinner at the Copple-Plaza tonight, the royal Japanese honeymooners started their program under a guard doubled as a result of the suspected plot.

Two police inspectors, Paul Crowley and William Cordon, acted as personal bodyguards for the royal couple. With the party were Lieutenant Inspector John A. Dorsey and two men from the bureau of criminal investigation and three Department of Justice agents.

Prince Takamatsu had high praise for Supl. Michael J. Crowley, whom he referred to as the chief of police.

It was revealed that before arriving at the South Station last night, the royal party had received word on the train that threats against the Japanese honeymooners had been made and that extra vigilance was being maintained.

half minutes. And the latest statement about the composition of meat in the United States should have read 50,000-600 pounds a day, not 50,000,000 pounds a year.

There were crowds around the Boeing fighting plane up to the time the airplane exhibition closed at 10:30 last Sunday night.

Eighteen of those planes flying together in formation went up 30,000 feet, establishing a world record. Individual army pilots took their planes up 32,000 feet.

The crowds were interested in the liquid oxygen tanks back of the pilot, allowing him to breathe six miles up, and interested in the machine gun at his left, firing 1200 bullets of .30-caliber per minute, between the blades of the revolving propeller, and the heavier machine gun on his right hand firing every minute 600 bullets of .50-caliber. Those bullets, piercing armor plate three-quarters of an inch thick, make armor plate protection against such planes impossible. With such heavy armor a plane could hardly taxi along the ground, much less rise.

Perhaps Mr. Boeing, who made the airplane in his Seattle factory, or Col. Deeds, his associate in United Aircraft, who invented the self-starter, will provide pilots with a small armor plated turret to protect their heads and brains. Or, Mr. Mellor's engineers of the aluminum company might devise some duralium.

When you see that small, powerful one-man fighting plane, able to pounce on the enemy from a height of 30,000 feet, with a safety factor of 15 to 1 to protect the pilot, you can imagine what respect 5000 such planes would inspire in an enemy nation, if we had the 5000.

It is a pleasure to know that the Boeing factory has received an order for 335 more of them.

to cost one million and a quarter dollars. They cost less than 100,000 apiece. 6000 of them could be built for the price of one modern battleship, unless in war.

Six thousand of those pursuit planes and 5000 bombing planes, plus the world's biggest fleet of submarines, would make the rest of the world say, "I want an armistice with the United States." And they would cost less than half of our present naval appropriations.

HOOPER URGES BETTER HOMES FOR NEGROES

Washington, April 24 (AP)—President Hoover today urged a solution of the negro housing problem in a message presented by Secretary Lamont at the opening meeting of the committee on negro housing at the President's home-building and home-owning conference.

The committee, composed of negro leaders from all sections of the country, held its first meeting in the Commerce Department.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"Prompted by a fine spirit of public service, you have assembled here today to consider what program may be devised to improve conditions of housing for our colored citizens.

"This committee is one of many special committees each of which is charged with some important phase of the broad problem of home building and home ownership.

"Your studies will lead you to the consideration of problems of the design, construction and financing of houses, of conditions of ownership and tenancy, of remodeling, equipping and furnishing of homes in city and country.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

"It is my hope that you who are the acknowledged leaders of your race may find in the work of this committee an opportunity to carry the study of this subject further than it has been carried before and that your recommendations may help to solve the problem and direct the forces which will lead to a more rapid solution of the important problem of housing with which you are concerned.

In Gangland Again

Save for the sound of our footsteps, all was as silent as the grave and, within about a couple of hours, we were alone in the house. I was driving the prison car, at 50 miles an hour, in the direction of the little quiet farmhouse that a sinister crook—who must remain nameless—had been keeping ready for me, commissioned by Uncle.

Here were clothes, food, drink, as well as money and a high-powered car. In this last matter, I again drove off leaving the prison car with the millionaire garments in it, locked in the garage.

A well-arranged fire, next day, burned the garage and its contents to the ground. So well arranged indeed was the first that there was strong evidence that at least one convict had perished in it, charged portions of a warden's uniform and of a convict's dress being saved from the almost recognizable remains of a motor car and what appeared to be human bones.

Our first drive had taken us nearly 200 miles from the prison, and our second one ended at Chicago. When we were on earth, and next day, I started young Maline off to Canada with my money, earned, advice and money to keep him until he could get back to his family.

With Uncle's inevitable help, I was now in a new position, and given to come to some decision as to what I should do.

Suffering

I had had enough of suffering, but my mind was still torn and yearned for a gracious and beautiful way of life—almost as much as I yearned for vengeance upon Rosemary's murderers.

I would escape from the country, take a long rest, and recover a measure of health and vigor. I would live luxuriously abroad, and meanwhile my money should work for me—biting the best brains in America for my work.

But the millionaire, St. Clair, was dead and must remain so, as the escaped convict, No. 4723.

Thus I planned and proposed—and found my life too bitter to be borne. . . . Dust and ashes in the mouth, I came near to suicide.

My new descent into the underworld was in great measure due to a great river, fishing from its crumbling bank, with a rod of gold, and it seemed that my bait was a great gold coin.

And, as so often happens to me in dreams, I felt foolish, ineffectual, and convinced of uselessness. While my very life seemed to depend upon my catching not merely fish, but certain particular fish, I knew that my task was hopeless, and that no fish would look at my bait.

I groaned aloud, and then prayed fervently for help.

When, after a rise of this hopeless labor, I was about to abandon my effort in despair, I realized that a man whom I recognized as William H. Williams, was standing at my elbow.

"What do you know about seals?" he remarked cryptically, pointing to the seal-ring which I wore upon the little finger of my right hand.

And, nodding encouragingly, he folded up his Chintheese-stick smile and smiled silently away.

William H. Williams, one of the cleverest private detectives who ever lived, and whom I had employed before I put an end to my life as John Deane Wayne Vanley St. Clair, the millionaire, had said something, as usual.

What did I know about seals? Winding, in my line, I had been heading into the water, and I had become a seal and, a moment later, was pursuing fish in their own element.

In the very act of opening widely my jaws, that they might meet deep in the quivering flesh of a sinister fish that fled before me, I awoke.

I lay pondering the dream next day, I saw its meaning, returned to America, and, as I have said, plunged again into the four river of crime, once more to be with, but not of its victims, and to pursue certain of them in their natural element.

Dived Headlong

The full story of my life in the guise of a criminal inhabitant of the underworld of crime would be as wearysome to read as it was to live. I have, therefore, after the first few weeks, a monotonous narration, rarely broken by brief periods of swift violent danger.

Let me say at once that, clever as I thought myself, and devilish relentless, impulsive and determined as I was, I should have had no success but for the help of three much cleverer people than myself—this same Williams H. Williams and his wife, and that amazing character known to most crooks of America, and to those of Chicago, as "Uncle."

Williams H. Williams . . . and never, never, if you should care to meet him or write to him, make any reference to this book, for the sake of addressing him as Williams H. Williams, to wit.

As he would indignantly and truculently point out to me, any doctored text could be made to meet him or write to him, make any reference to this book, for the sake of addressing him as Williams H. Williams, to wit.

As he would indignantly and truculently point out to me, any doctored text could be made to meet him or write to him, make any reference to this book, for the sake of addressing him as Williams H. Williams, to wit.

RECORD SESSION AHEAD

Members of the legislature are beginning to think that the present session will be a record one for length. Committee work has been lagging despite frequent administrations for speed from President Gaspar G. Bacon, of the Senate, and Speaker Leverett Saltonstall, of the House. Among the matters pending are the most controversial measure such as the future of the F. I. a realignment of the congressional districts, and compulsory automobile insurance amendments.

1918 LAST LONG SESSION

The legislatures of 1883, 1911 and 1919 had the record for longest sessions. These legislatures sat 206 days. The nearest approach to the record came in 1929 when prorogation took place on the 204th day.

ONE OUT OF STEP

Rep. George A. Gilman, of Boston, was the only member of the House "out of step" when the bill appropriating $1,500,000 on five-year notes for the prison colony at Norfolk was enacted. He voted against it. When the same bill came up in the Senate, a single vote also was against it—Senator Roger Keith of Brockton.

CARNER AT STATE HOUSE

Primo Carnera, Italian boxer, visited Governor Ely and first saw the House in session. He sat for a few minutes on the rostrum with Speaker Leverett Saltonstall.

FISH TO OPEN SEASON

City Comptroller Albert L. Fish, of Dorchester, will open the baseball season in that district next Sunday afternoon when he throws the first ball at a game between the St. Mark's and St. Paul teams at Dorchester Town Field.

LABORATORY AIDS NAMED

Lillian G. Murphy, of 112 P. st., South Boston, and Mary E. Reed, of 35 Carmel st., Roxbury, have been appointed laboratory assistants in the city health department by Mayor Curley.

SHAUGHNESSY ON RICK LIST

John J. Shaughnessy, assistant secretary to Mayor Curley, was absent from City Hall yesterday as a result of a cold he contracted last Monday while on a visit to New York.

FRENCH WAR VETERAN

Dan McLaughlin, chauffeur at Mayor Curley's office, served in the French army during the early years of the World War. He transferred to the American forces after the entry of the United States into the conflict.

WELL EARNED PROMOTION

The trustees of the Boston City Hospital have promoted Miss Frances Lettovich, of the sanatorium division from laboratory technician to laboratory assistant. The promotion carries a salary increase of $300 a year.

OTLAKERTY APPOINTED

Edward M. O'Flaherty, of 73 Glenwood rd., Roslindale, was yesterday appointed an inspector in the building department of the city by Mayor Curley. The position carries a salary of $220 a year.

WALTER V. MCCARTHY, SECRETARY TO THE OVERSEAS OF THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, HAS JUST ORGANIZED A CLUB OF 100 YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN OF THE BOSTON DISTRICT TO SUPPORT HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE CITY COUNCIL FROM WARD 10, THAT SECTION, THIS FALL. THE GROUP WILL BE KNOWN AS THE CAREY ASSOCIATES.

CAREY PLANNING EARLY

John E. Carey, of the sewer division of the city public works department, has just organized a club of 100 young men and women of the Boston district to support his candidacy for the City Council from Ward 10, that section, this fall. The group will be known as the Carey Associates.

250 MILES ON BANANAS AND MILK

ALL the way from Oslo to Christiansand paced a Norwegian athlete. 250 miles! And ate nothing en route but bananas and milk!

According to Dr. Rogler, his friend, who stop-watched the trip, "Fipp was in excellent trim all the way . . . no headaches, side stitches, logginess. I don't think he could have done it on any other diet."

Dietitians and athletes are fast finding out that bananas and milk provide the food essentials we need. They're rich in energy-building elements, mineral salts and vitamins.

And isn't it good to find something so good for you that costs so little? Bite for bite, bananas supply more energy and food value for less money than almost anything else at the fruit store or grocery.

BEAN HOLE BEANS

» Better than "Home-made" Beans

With all the goodness of layers of beans and sugar-cured pork—flavored through with cups of brown sugar and molasses—the finest dish of the North Woods lumber camps is delicious "bean hole" beans. Van Camp not only brings you the original "woods" recipe but adds the flavor of the "outdoors" cooking. No wonder good cooks crisp these beans in the oven and claim them as the best of home cooking. Of course the family wants them often. Your grocer can help you serve Bean Hole Beans tonight.

FIVE PERISH IN POLISH FLOODS

Warsaw, Poland, April 24 (AP)—Five persons have been drowned in the floods which are sweeping the Vistula region and threatening the city itself.

Many villages have been isolated, most bridges in the province have been washed away and the waters of the rivers Divina and Niemn are filled with floating furniture, farm vehicles and bodies of domestic animals.

Alarming reports continue to come from villages about Vilna, where rescue work has been made difficult because of boggy roads and swaying bridges. The water today reached the central section of Vilna.

COTTON-FARMS CO-OPERATION ADVOCATED

Augusta, Ga., April 24 (AP)—The American Cotton Manufacturers' Association assembled in 35th annual convention today on the keynote of the relationship between agricultural and textile prosperity.

B. E. Geer of Greenville, S. C., president of the association, said he was questioning whether Southern cotton manufacturing again can be stabilized "until agriculture has been reestablished."

"I cannot believe that our business as cotton manufacturers can permanently prosper unless this prosperity is shared with that great army of consumers who are at the same time the producers of our raw material," he said.

FOR UNIFORM SYSTEM. He recommended appointment of a committee to work toward bringing about uniform operating practices among cotton mills.

Carl Williams, cotton representative on the Federal Farm Board, said the reduced buying power of farmers, caused by low cotton prices, was reflected in a reduced demand for textiles.

ADVISES OTHER CROPS. He expressed the view that the "threatened tragic disappearance" of American cotton from world markets would not take place, and cited statistics to show that exports in February and March were considerably greater than during the same months last year.

He advised diversification of crops to raise both human and livestock food as "the real salvation of the southern cotton farmer."

Flour Mill Fire Threatens Homes. Montreal, April 24 (AP)—Fire today destroyed the Western Canada Flour Mills, and spread so rapidly persons living nearby were ordered to leave their homes.

Four firemen were injured by a flour mill wall. The estimated damage was half a million dollars.

Two Children Die in Kerosene Blast. Portsmouth, O., April 24 (AP)—Two children burned to death, another was burned seriously, and their parents were probably fatally burned by an explosion of kerosene in the home of Arthur Crabtree, near here today.

FOUR TEMPTING HEALTH-RECIPES

Hijackers Pounce on Driver of Load of Fertilizer

Danville, Ct., April 24—It's mighty hard to account for the mistake, but there it is on the police blotter and the hunt is on. It seems that C. J. Rush of Danville, Ct., was driving through Mechanville early this morning with a load of fertilizer, when an auto passed him, then forced him off the road. His two occupants held him up.

They were looking for whiskey, Rush said. And talk about doubling the amount! They even looked under the canvas before they knew the truth. Then they pounced Rush, to get even, and fled.

Foster Elected to Societ Trade Board

Minneapolis, April 24 (AP)—William Z. 32 AMERICANS TO BOW BEFORE KING GEORGE

London, April 24 (NBS)—Thirty-two American women, most of them debutantes, are to be presented at the four courts which will be held in May and June.

As usual, the names of those who will be presented are being kept a close secret until a week before the date of the various courts, but International News learned today that girls from New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Seattle will be among the lucky ones to curtsy before King George and Queen Mary and witness the pomp and splendor of a British royal court.

The 32 women and girls who will be presented have been selected out of more than 100 applications by Ambassador Davies.

A member of the embassy told International News making these selections is the most irksome part of the duties of an American ambassador to the court of St. James. "Somebody said that there is no fury like a woman scorned and that certainly applies to the court presentations," the embassy official said.

"If we didn't keep the list of names secret until the last moment we would be overwhelmed by complaints from those who were not selected."

Zepp on Wheels Hits 100-Mile Speed in German Tests

Hanover, Germany, April 24 (AP)—A steam line passenger coach driven by propeller has whizzed at the rate of 100 miles an hour on a five-mile stretch of railroad track.

The sponsors say the Zepp on wheels did not have space enough for real speed. They hope for 150 miles an hour.

You get plenty of all other vitamins except sunshine vitamin-D

.... Bond Bread is the ONLY food that gives you the extra vitamin-D you need
(Two slices a meal insure you plenty)

YOUR doctor knows that for good teeth, good health and the strength to resist disease, you need the vital food element known as sunshine vitamin-D. You will be surprised to know that all other vitamins are plentiful in many foods. You may be amazed to know that Bond Bread is the only food that gives you the extra sunshine vitamin-D you need.

This double guarantee means what it says

THE sunshine vitamin-D Bond Bread is made under the United States patent of the University of Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. We will gladly furnish a facsimile of the certification from Wisconsin under date of February 16, 1931, which says:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that the incorporation of vitamin-D in the products of General Baking Company by the Steenbeck Process and under control of the PAEDIATRIC RESEARCH FOUNDATION OF TORONTO is fully authorized by the undersigned under Letters Patent of the United States No. 1,680,818 to Steenbeck and owned by Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI RESEARCH FOUNDATION
By H. L. Russell, Director

Backed by Scientific Authority

The University of Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation is associated with the Paediatric Research Foundation of Toronto. For years, this group of scientists, through thousands of biologic tests, have studied the needs of the body for vitamin-D. Their findings are accepted by doctors and dentists everywhere.

As to Bond Bread, the Research Foundation checks and re-checks its conclusions with the best scientific brains in the United States. No one could imagine any surer way of deciding the correct amount of sunshine vitamin-D that Bond Bread should supply.

But they go even further... They actually analyze Bond Bread loaves, day after day, under the strictest biologic tests in their own research laboratories. These scientists make certain that Bond Bread does supply the extra sunshine vitamin-D you need.

The paragraph in the letter at the left tells you that they... not we alone... they, the research authorities themselves, guarantee to you that two slices of Bond Bread per meal will give you enough of the extra sunshine vitamin-D your health requires.

The only other ways to get enough sunshine vitamin-D

1. Direct exposure to midday sun
2. Artificial sun-lamps
3. Certain medicines

NATURE thought she was giving the world's people enough of vitamin-D when she gave us sunshine. But we shut off the sun's rays with our factory smoke, our city dust, our roofs and our very clothing.

Human beings are still the same physically. They still need the sunshine vitamin for proper growth, sound teeth and general good health.

The best source of all is the sun itself. We ought to spend part of each day outdoors in the country. But few of us can. We are penned up in offices, factories, homes and schools. And so the sun just can't do the job for us that Nature intended.

Science has stepped in. The overdressed city child still has the same chance for health as the barefoot boy on the farm. For now, just by eating two slices of Bond Bread per meal, we all can obtain enough of the additional vitamin-D we need.

Children especially need this

Every word of this announcement is approved by medical authority. So you need not fear any scare-head, take-this-or-else appeal. The simple facts are enough:

Grown-ups need plenty of sunshine vitamin-D for good teeth and good health. But growing children need it even more because without this vital food element, proper growth is improbable if not impossible. On that truth, your own doctor... in fact, the whole medical profession... absolutely agrees.

OF COLLEGE ST. TORONTO, CANADA

To Them It May Concern:

We have honored upon the General Baking Company the exclusive right to make available to the American public through Bond Bread and other bread, that vital food element known as the "sunshine" vitamin, or vitamin "D".

To assume the responsibility continues only to analyze the product to insure and guarantee that all such loaves shall supply said vital food element to the degree that our research has proved to be adequate and efficacious.

Since ours is a non-profit institution, our permanent interest is public service.

GAY HEIDELBERG DAYS RETURN AS FILM FOLK BID THALBERGS BON VOYAGE

CONRAD NAGEL, DOLORES DEL RIO, JOHN GILBERT, MRS. WILL H. HAYS, NORMA SHEARER, WILL H. HAYS, MARION DAVIES, IRVING THALBERG, ADOLPHE MENAOU, MARIE DRESSLER, HARPO MARKS, BID FRIENDS BON VOYAGE, CZAR OF FILM WORLD GUEST AT FAREWELL FETE, BACK TO HEIDELBERG DAYS, AN OLD GERMAN CUSTOM

Celebrities of the film world joined hand in hand to bid Norma Shearer, screen beauty, and her husband, Irving Thalberg, bon voyage the night before they left Hollywood on a three-month tour of Europe. Marion Davies, screen star, gave a farewell German party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thalberg at a beach home. The home and garden were turned into a German setting in honor of the occasion and many of the guests appeared in German costumes. Will H. Hays, czar of the film world; Mrs. Hays, Conrad Nagel, Dolores del Rio, John Gilbert, Adolphe Menjou, Marie Dressler and Harpo Marx were among the guests. An old-fashioned German band furnished music for the festive affair. (Int'l Photos.)

NEGRO PUPILS CHARGE 'SLUR'

Charges that a woman teacher at the Robbery Memorial high school for girls offended the colored students there were under investigation by the school committee today.

The teacher, Miss Bessie McBride, director of the placement bureau, is alleged to have told the girls there were few opportunities for them in business in Boston and that most of them would become domestic or nurse—that even to be nurses they must leave Boston. Protesters of five committees of colored citizens and made to a local newspaper published for Negroes, affidavits from 20 colored students, resulted in the probe. Miss McBride, who lives at 4 Chestnut st., Beacon Hill, is alleged to have made the statements while pointing out an opportunity for one colored student to secure a scholarship at Fiske institute. Many of the girls are said to have "walked out" on her address, offended.

The school committee reported Miss McBride absent from the city during this week's vacation. The committee understands she denies the charges, however.

MALDEN HEN ON GRIEF STRIKE

A very serious situation in the grief has arisen today in Malden when Jean, twin sister of Priscilla, declined to lay an egg, which is very unusual indeed for Jean, and occurs only when her heart is breaking.

You may ask, "How long since a hen laid eggs with her heart?" But young Aaron Pritchard, who is only 11 but who, as shepherd of his grandpa's pedigree flock, knows conditions, avers that Jean's non-egg day was caused through her mourning for Priscilla, predeceased Plymouth Rock, who vanished yesterday from the bosom of Mrs. Nettie Pritchard of 21 Kenilworth st., Malden.

Priscilla, queen of the flock, and her less assertive twin, Jean, were inseparable companions and many of the lucidest early-spring words they shared together.

A Rhode Island Red rooster was under suspicion for a time in connection with Priscilla's strange vanishing, but the rooster was absolved of all blame when he reappeared with the flock—and without any guilt on his face, or something when he was yesterday.

Priscilla was following exactly, through traffic in Salem st. Malden, missing death by auto line but eventually making the other side of the thoroughfare.

Norfolk Prison Bill Is Signed
The bill appropriating $1,500,000 for extension work at the Norfolk prison colony, was signed by Gov. Ely today, becoming effective immediately through an emergency preamble.

The general appropriation bill reached his desk this afternoon, and was expected to be signed immediately. Still before the House ways and means committee is the $2,500,000 proposed building act.

Skull Crushed as Chain Falls on Ship
A hoisting chain, parting, fell 35 feet and fractured the skull of Joseph Noyes, 21, of 27 Chestnut st., Everett, today in the hold of the steamship Kennecott, at Commonwealth pier. He was taken to Haymarket relief hospital where his name is on the danger list.

All Hands Out to Get on Trail of Malden 'Flapper' That Vanished

"IT CERTAINLY IS A MYSTERIOUS CASE" solve the mystery, Priscilla left no clue when she disappeared, and her sisters are heart-broken. So is Aaron, for Priscilla is a pedigreed hen from Aaron's flock.

TOLMAN ESTATE $1,133,000

The estate of the late Gilbert B. Tolman of Canton, Boston leather merchant who left public bequests of more than $400,000, is valued at $1,133,750, it was revealed today.

The value became known when appraisers filed their report in Norfolk County Probate Court at Dedham.

Stock holdings were valued at $684,104, bonds at $311,078 and real estate and miscellaneous holdings, $88,000.

In the will, filed November 4, Mr. Tolman left $100,000 each to the Home for Aged Women and the Home for Aged Men, to the Children's Hospital, the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Deaf and Dumb School for Crippled and Deformed Children and the Northfield School of Northfield, he left $500,000.

Leaves other institutions were given $25,000 apiece, and bequests were made to relatives and friends.

Two sons, Gilbert, Jr., and Rodney M., were given the stock in the Tolman-Fox Co. of South Boston, and the widow, Mrs. Lily Tolman, received real estate in Canton and 80 per cent of the life and residue of the estate during life.

Leaders at Funeral of 'Jerry' Leary
Many men prominent in public life attended funeral services today for Jeremiah J. Leary, retired assistant registrar, who died Wednesday at his home, 65 Gladiolus st., East Boston, at the age of 56.

Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Orient Heights, by the Rev. Francis Cronin, the pastor, assisted by the Rev. Daniel A. McCabe, and the Rev. Edward A. Walsh, sub-deacon. Miss Alice Bullock was the organist. Burial was at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

Charlestown Vets in Prize Drill Tonight

Bunker Hill Post 25, American Legion, will hold its annual military ball and prize drill tonight, in the State Armory in Charlestown. Crack drill outfits from Battery K and Battery L, 24th Coast Artillery, the junior drill team of Lowell post and the rifle and drill team of Cambridge post will compete for cups donated by Mayor Curley and Commander Daniel J. Foley. Capt. James Degan, Capt. Joseph Hanney, Lieut. Jerome Lally and Lieut. Gerald Lally will judge the drill.

The chairman of the committee is Post Commander John J. Monaghan.

Gov. Ely to Plant American Linden
In observance of Arbor Day, Gov. Ely will plant an American Linden tree tomorrow on the Mt. Vernon st. side of the State House grounds, near the west wing. The ceremony will take place at 10 o'clock.

$50 for News Tips
Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned in to the News-Tip Editor at Liberty 4000.

What is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip.

If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event while it is happening. Bring your pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use.

There will be $15 given weekly for the best or the most unusual event news tip received; $10 for the next best; $5 for the next best, and $2 prize for each of the 10 next most valuable tips.

INJUNCTION ON WHALEN STAYS

Judge Pierce of the Supreme Court today continued in force a temporary injunction issued Tuesday against Mayor John J. Whalen of Chelsea and Edward J. Mahoney, city electrician.

The injunction restrains them from awarding a contract to the American Gas and Accumulator Co. for traffic signals at Washington and Webster aves. and the Reverse Beach parkway.

It will remain in force until hearings on the facts are completed before an auditor, whom the court will appoint.

Two taxpayers allege the Mayor did not act in good faith and tried to induce Mahoney, against his better judgment, to approve a bid of $12410 whereas the lowest bid was $1093.

40 FLEE 2-HOUR BABY FALLS 45 FEET OFF ROOF

A fire in a block of stores on Western ave., Lynn, late last night, burned for two hours and drove 40 persons to the street from an adjoining apartment house.

The blaze started in the Belmont Restaurant at 728 Western ave. and spread to the Friends Bakery, the National Cleaners and Dyers and John J. Burke billiard parlor.

In the restaurant damage is estimated at $2000 and about $500 in the bakery. The other two stores suffered slight damage from smoke and water.

THREATENED BY HUSBAND, SHE DECLARES

Mrs. Cournoyer Testifies She Was Choked and Abused When Spouse Drank

After testifying that she awoke one night to see her husband coming toward her with a large jackknife, Mrs. Lillian Cournoyer of Strathmore rd., Brookline, was awarded a divorce today in probate court at Dedham.

Roe was also awarded custody of a four-year-old daughter by Judge McCool at the end of the uncontested divorce case, in which she charged Leo Cournoyer of Strathmore St., Boston, with cruel and abusive treatment.

Mrs. Cournoyer testified that she was married in Boston, July 8, 1926, and that on February 15, 1927, while living in Norway St., Back Bay, her husband, who she said was drunk, cursed and abused her so that it was necessary to call in the building superintendent to stop him.

SAYS HE CHOKED HER
In December 1927, she charged, he choked her and bruised her neck and arms so that she could not go to work.

"In January, 1928," she testified, "on Huntington ave. (where they then were living) he came home, drunk as usual. It was about 3 o'clock in the morning. I was in bed asleep."

"I felt his presence in the room and opened my eyes. He was coming toward me with a large jackknife in his hand. I tried to get up and run, but he held me back and tried to show him that I was not afraid. Finally I took the knife away from him."

"In February, 1928, he attempted to throw me out a window. He was drunk again."

SHOWED BRUISES
Mrs. Margaret Wilson, landlady of the Huntington ave. building, testified that Mrs. Cournoyer had exhibited black and blue marks on her arms and said that she, Mrs. Wilson, had seen Cournoyer, one night, standing near the house, with his hands in his pockets. He declared, according to Mrs. Wilson, that he was waiting for his wife and had a gun in his pocket.

The witness admitted she did not see the gun.

BOY INJURED BY HIT-RUN GIRL
Playing in front of his home at 529 Massachusetts ave., South End, last night, Ellsworth Huckle, 9 years old, was run down by an auto driven by a young woman who sped away without revealing her identity.

Charles Huckle, father of the boy, witnessed the accident from a front window of his home. He ran out of the house, picked up his son, hailed a passing auto and took the child to the City Hospital. The boy had a fracture of the skull, a compound fracture of the left foot, and multiple contusions and abrasions.

In reporting the accident to the police of Station 5, Mr. Huckle described the car as a green roadster. He said the girl driver was accompanied by another girl and a youth about 20.

He said the roadster was speeding along Massachusetts ave., and at a point near his home the small car bounded over the curb, ran along the sidewalk, hitting the boy, and then swerved out into the street and sped away.

Three Sentenced in Norwood Robberies
Anthony Fornaro, Joseph Higgins, and Frank Rookie, each 33 years old, were sentenced today for larceny to six months in jail by Judge Daniel T. O'Connell in Norfolk superior court.

On Dec. 20, 1930, it was charged, the three robbed the homes of Frederick Sawyer on Day St., and William Steele on Florence ave., Norwood. Charges of breaking and entering were placed on file. Rookie was fined $5 for driving a car without proper authority.

Stickell Promoted to District Chief

Hospital to Make Room for Children
The old central administration building at the Boston City Hospital will be converted into a hospital for children for use, until the new institution for minors is erected there. Mayor Curley announced today.

At a conference with the trustees of the hospital today the mayor decided to appropriate $25,000 to fix up the building for that purpose. He said for the construction of the new building will be called for next month, the mayor said. The building will be completed by Jan. 15, at an estimated cost of $700,000.

Fugitive Saved From Drowning by Police
Salvatore Volta, 25, of Ipswich, East Boston, was rescued from drowning early today off McDonaugh's wharf, East Boston, after he and two other companions, accused of attempting to steal lobster, jumped from a rowboat into the harbor, to escape harbor police. Two of the young men swam ashore and made their escape. Volta, struggling in the water, was helped by the Watchman. He was taken to the Haymarket Police Station. He will be arraigned in municipal court today charged with larceny.

U. S. CHECKING GARRETT FUNDS

On the eve of the third trial of Oliver B. Garrett for conspiracy, it was learned today that federal officials are again investigating the financial affairs of the former police liquor raider.

A special agent from the Treasury Department at Washington, working out of the local income tax division office, has been checking records and questioning persons known to Garrett for several days.

A transcript of Garrett's testimony in the previous trial, in which he said he made money by betting on boxing matches, has been obtained by the agent. It was learned.

Other records at the Suffolk County courthouse have been checked.

FIFTEEN-ROUND TITLE BOUTS BILL IS REPORTED

JIMMY JOHNSTON, BOY BANDIT, A MODERN ALADDIN

With GEORGE UNDERWOOD
The Boy Bandit.
Ted Case Name.
Bucking Garden.

Close Up on Promoter Jimmy Johnston

JIMMY JOHNSTON, who dares question the power of the great Madison Square Garden Corporation, which is the Standard Oil and U. S. Steel of the boxing racket, and who recently yanked the giant Primo Carnera out of a suspension hat like a magician takes a rabbit, recently spent a few hours here in our City of Culture and Cod, arranging some of the details for the big scrap between Ponderous Primo and our own Squire Sharkey of Chestnut Hill. Jimmy flew right in by airplane, turned around and flew right back again. The Boy Bandit strives to make his comings and goings as mysterious as possible and never misses a chance to court publicity.

"The Boy Bandit," the name placed upon him more as a term of endearment than approval by the late lamented "Red" Green, is the turf above him—fits him like a glove. He's a rosy checked, bright eyed, dapper little man upon whom the years sit so lightly that he scarcely looks half his age. You wouldn't take this natty, sporty looking chap for the father of 15 children, let alone a fighter.

JOHNSTON'S boyish looking appearance naturally was observed by a quarter of a century annually has been sweeping down and capturing fighters from other managers, raiding other stables of supposedly aged and starting himself in on anything that looked good, "promoting" himself into the direction of scores of fighters, clubs, matches. The little human drama of a man has outwitted all the other hunters in the fight racket. Johnston is a fighter. Ted loves a fighter.

Johnston is a combination of a fox and a bulldog. He's a game little rooster with all his shrewdness, cunning and phlegmatic, cool and courageous at all times. No emergency has yet stumped him.

JIMMY changes his coat like a chameleon. One never knows quite where he stands. In the last few years he at times has been hand in glove with Tex Rickard and Bill Carey of the great Garden Corporation only to suddenly turn about and fight them the next day. Just now the Boy Bandit is supposed to be in a war to the death with the Garden Corporation. The next thing you are liable to see are Johnston and Carey walking down the avenue arm in arm, more or less melodiously singing "Pals."

Jimmy got his penchant for jumping from one side of the fence to the other from his long association with politicians. When he was coming up in the fight racket he was a close associate of Mayor Walker and Mayor Hines. New York district leaders, and with Charles Murphy when he ruled the roost as leader of Tammany Hall. Of late years Johnston has been intimate with Mayor James J. Walker. The two "Jimmies" are inseparable.

IN FISTIO circles Johnston has capitalized his friendship with Mayor Walker to the limit. A few years ago when Johnston was in a slump and his boxing business suffering considerable depression, he never missed the chance of being seen in company with Mayor Walker. The mayor of New York is a great fight fan. He is the father of the law legalizing boxing in New York and a regular attendant at boxing bouts in Madison Square Garden.

In those early days Johnston would wait at the Garden entrance for the mayor to show up. Then he would take his arm and escort his honor to his seat. The Boy Bandit always was careful to spend the celebrity about a bit before seating himself. The fight gentry seeing the two together would reason, "Gee, Jimmy and the mayor are pals. Johnston has a big dog down at the Hall. We better not rub Johnston's fur the wrong way."

The early friendship between Johnston and Mayor Walker grew and spread strong. Johnston now really is something of a figure in New York politics, truly does possess strong political influence.

Jimmy Johnston now is strong enough politically to bring about something the great Madison Square Garden Corporation was unable to do, viz., to get the State Athletic Commission to lift the suspension on Primo Carnera.

THERE IS no phase of the fight racket Johnston is not familiar with. As a boy he learned the game as a boxer, boxed a few man-sized wallopers with his chin and decided to become a manager. He first was associated with Charlie Harvey. Besides being the owner of the most famous mutchies in the world Charlie Harvey was America's leading importer of English boxers.

Johnston helped handle and then helped manage Jim Driscoll, Owen Moran, Pat O'Shea and other of those English fighters Harvey imported. When Harvey was made secretary of the New York State Boxing Commission under the Frayley law he turned the management of his fighters over to Johnston.

Of late years Johnston has managed scores of famous fighters, including World's Champions Harry Greb, Mike McTigue, Joe Dundee, and Pete Laton. When Sharkey first invaded New York Johnston was declared in 10 per cent of the Gob. That contract expired some time ago.

"For his success and inches Ben Driscoll was the greatest fighter I ever saw or hope to see," declared Johnston in a fanning bee while he was here. "That little Englishman was a wizardly boxer, a masterly ring general and a hitter par excellence. There never was a fighter who combined so many essential ring qualities."

"Mike McTigue was a far greater fighter than some persons gave him credit of being," continued the Boy Bandit. "Old Mike was handicapped by bad hands. If the tools of his trade had stood up in later years Old Mike would have shipped them all."

"Sharkey? What do I think of Sharkey? What I always thought—the greatest heavyweight of the present day. He is the real world's heavyweight champion. Calling that Dutchman Schmelling champion is a joke. Schmelling is 'champion' only in name."

MIKE McTIGUE "There's only one fellow"—the Boy Bandit now was getting warmed up—"that has a chance with Sharkey. I refer to that Mountain Among Men, that Abner Slocum, the Colossus of Swat, that Behemoth of Boxing. Ponderous Primo Carnera, gentleman Ponderous Primo Carnera. The greatest show on earth, which yours humbly, James Joyce Johnston, the Boy Bandit, will promote, will bring together the two marvels of this and all other generations, Jack Sharkey and—"

We didn't hear the rest. We knew the Boy Bandit was only warming up. And when Jimmy Johnston got to the Marston distance, Once we tried to listen through a Jimmy Johnston organ. Never again!

 S-D GAME

The Dartmouth-Stanford intercollegiate football game may be played in the Harvard Stadium on Saturday, November 28, as originally planned.

Edward A. McLaughlin, Jr., president of the Boston College Alumni Association, conferred with William J. Bingham, director of athletics at Harvard, which has offered the Stadium to Dartmouth and Stanford on that date.

Although neither McLaughlin nor Bingham was to discuss the results of the conference, it was learned that an understanding was reached whereby the date will be allowed.

The present status, by which Mayor Curley refuses a permit for the game on that date, will prevail, however, unless the Dartmouth alumni request the Boston College alumni to withdraw their objection.

Mayor Curley made it plain that he will stand by his position until the local college alumni ask him to change. He feels that the Boston College-Holy Cross game is one upon which Boston College particularly depends for athletic revenue, and feels it would be unjust to have the intercollegiate game as a counter attraction.

St. John's Defeats Yale in Lacrosse
 New Haven April 24.—The undefeated lacrosse team of St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., defeated Yale last season, beat Yale, and is displaying a consistent attack.

The film, presenting a comparatively strong defense, gave the visitors the hardest battle they have had in the season, although there was never any doubt as to the outcome of the game. The defeat was Yale's second setback of the year, the previous beating being at the hands of Johns Hopkins in a game on the Southern trip.

The winners gained a three-goal lead over the Blue in the first half and duplicated this feat in the second. Yale had little chance to do much on the offensive, being forced to concentrate on defense practically from the very start of the game.

15 Round Title Bouts in State Reported

The Legislative Committee on Public Safety today reported favorably on several bills based on the report of the special committee on boxing.

One bill would make legal, where a title is at stake, 15-round bouts in Massachusetts.

A second bill would require that, before a fight is held, the votes of referees and judges be made public.

The first bill would require that six-ounce gloves be used in professional boxing exhibitions, and that gloves no lighter than eight ounces be used for the amateur matches.

Another bill refers to fouls and "no control" bouts. It states that when during a round a blow is struck below the belt, that round shall be scored against the offender and if three such rounds are scored against the offender the fight shall be awarded to the injured boxer.

In the case of such a fight being awarded to a man on foul, the fighter and manager shall be suspended for 30 days and the offender shares of the purse forfeited.

In case a majority of the judges decide that two fighters are stalling, a bout may be declared "no contest" and both fighters' purses forfeited, according to the latter bill.

SHARKEY AND PRIMO MEET AGAIN JUNE 10

MEET AGAIN JUNE 10

With Babe Ruth destined to remain in the hospital for the rest of this week and out of the game for an indefinite period, it might be well for the New York Yankees management, and for that matter the management of every club in the American League to give a thought to the Bambino's future.

Regardless of the seriousness of the bone run which is present in him, he cannot last much longer. Ever since 1916 he has been continually producing the diamond lustre. Nature's insatiable hunger eventually must clutch him. And what he does finally hit his drive over the fence, what then?

Babe himself doesn't have to worry about the future. He has invested his money wisely and he never expects another cent out of baseball. He said he would live in the best of style for the rest of his life.

The American League club owners, though, have passed up a golden opportunity when Babe plays his final game. They will lose the greatest attraction the national pastime has ever known.

No human power can prevent Ruth from being out of the game as an active player. But the managers can see to it that he is given the same attention as the league as long as he lives and if they are smart, they will do this.

Ruth May Head American League
For the fans are going to demand it and if the demand is not met, baseball patronage will fall off amazingly.

For several years that could make a manager or official of some club or of the league.

The fan writes suggesting that he be made president of the American League.

That suggestion will be generally scoffed at, no doubt, but one at the time it is made is such a one at the time it is made.

It is certain that he would be popular and make the league a better place with the fans and that after all, is the first and foremost duty of the head of the league.

It is a venture like baseball which depends almost entirely upon the good will of the customer.

And he probably would attempt to give the game back to the fans which would be a very good thing.

Fans Dislike Many Restrictions
Of late years there has been a tendency on the part of the officials of both leagues to make the game more dignified. There are now that the game is the form can go on the field before the game is played.

People in the stands, that umpires stand on the field, that the time that the ball must not be thrown to the fans at the close of a game, that pictures can be taken in designated spots, etc., etc.

Babe Ruth in Yankees uniform, standing on the field.

PRIMO CARNERA
Jack Sharkey, the Squire of Chestnut Hill, and Primo Carnera, the Tall Tower of Gorgegnolo, met in Toland's gym yesterday.

When they meet again at Ebbets Field something is liable to fall. This picture gives a fine idea of the relative sizes of the two rivals.

KALMIKOFF AND LONDON CLASH AT GARDEN

KALMIKOFF, WRESTLING'S ABYSSMAL BRUTE

REPTIL BOUT IS PROPOSED

Hans Petras has been paired with Tiny Roebuck, Indian grappler, in the semifinal. Petras is one of the best of the foreign grapplers now in this country. He will experience some tough opposition when he collides with Roebuck.

There will be a four-minute contest to decide. Ray Steele of Glendale, Cal., will take on George Tragos of Greece. Gino Caribaldi of Italy will mingle with Fred Grossman of Des Moines. Wes Willie Davis of Virginia will clash with Nick Zelnick of Russia, while the Rev. Charles Urban will oppose Jack Washburn of California.

There is considerable interest in the appearance of the Rev. Charles Urban, known as the Wrestling Minister. He was scheduled to appear here two months ago. He was on the job, but his opponent failed to put in an appearance.

John Healy of Australia was originally carded to mingle with Washburn tonight. He was obliged to withdraw from the match, and Fabiani was fortunate in being able to secure the services of the Wrestling Minister.

Sonnenberg Defeats McCoy After K. O.

By JACK CONWAY

Gus Sonnenberg, wrestling's most colorful figure, annihilated his way to a victory over Bibber McCoy at the Arena in one of the most thrilling mat bouts ever staged in this city.

In the second round, Sonnenberg, a true champion, came up off the floor to win.

McCoy went through the ropes to the floor. He was unconscious for five minutes. He was removed to his dressing room and given first aid treatment.

At first it did not look as if the former Dartmouth hero would be able to resume wrestling. Gus, however, made the big effort and got back on the mat with McCoy.

McCoy tried to follow up his advantage by a series of quick attacks. Sonnenberg, however, was not to be outdone. He scored with a couple of quick tucks, but Sonnenberg broke the force of them by retreating.

When Sonnenberg cleared, he resorted to his old style wrestling, holds to weaken Bibber. He sent the Holy Cross favorite reeling backwards under the power of terrific locks. McCoy also applied neck locks and toe holds.

Sonnenberg did not take any reckless chances. He knew he was on the verge of losing and so played the game safe. When he got McCoy weakened, he opened fire with three flying tackles, the last of which pinned McCoy in 17 minutes, 46 seconds.

Mrs. Dalton Leads in W. G. A. Match Play

By BILL GRIMES

At the present writing, Mrs. L. H. Dalton is the heroine of the Southern district drive for its first Women's Golf Association of Massachusetts team championship.

Not only has Mrs. Dalton won the rare distinction of being undefeated in all three matches, but two of her victories turned the tide in favor of Southern, when her losses would have meant the loss of these matches.

In the opening match of the season at Wollaston, while playing against Miss M. Kennedy, Mrs. Dalton came through with a 2-0 victory and gave the Southern District the odd point, for here was the first match in which the teams were devalued at 4-4 when she reported a win.

Rugby Clash at Stadium

The Crimson varsity rugby team will meet Yale tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock, in the Stadium, while the avul varsity fifteens will open festivities at 1 o'clock.

The contest with the Eli rugby team will climax the season of the Harvard team and will be the final home game of the year, the remaining tilt all being scheduled away from home.

Yale will bring a strong team to Cambridge, captained by Cecil Bullock, former English rugby star, and a fine stand-off half.

And the rugby meeting between the two traditional rivals should provide a full afternoon's entertainment for the sport followers who journey out to Soldiers Field.

A bill providing double penalties for public officials guilty of violating the prohibition law is being considered by the California Legislature.

And after all, it's only fair. They can usually drink twice as much as the ordinary citizen.

SHORT STORY

LADY, flane abroad, seeks DANCE PARTNER for mutual practice few months; preference similar guarantee essential.—Box 11115, 12 and 14, Mayfairplace, W. 3.

Yielding British lecturer says America has no cathedrals worth mentioning.

The guy who designs the bathrooms shown in the magazine ads will definitely consider this a personal insult.

My gal's coy and bashful, And I think that she is as nice a maiden As a maid can be.

She is quite a hoyden, Likes to pout and balk, Mince, lisp and giggle, Whispers baby-talk.

We have fun together, Goodness aakes alive, Though I'm almost eighty-six And she's just sixty-five.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS When I'm thrashed with a man, I can forget him just like that.

Stand by for station announcements.

And it's just as fun as the bar-

man's.

There was a young woman named Kate, Asked a girl if she'd give him a date.

Said she, "Want a hot one?" Said he, "If you're got one—"

So she gave him the date of the Chicago fire.

And the rascal baritone who holds it out for two minutes shouldn't feel so superior.

Our leader has been holding a bow for two years.

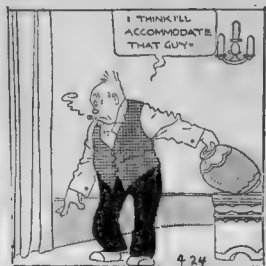

And it's just as fun as the bar-

man's.

EARLY LOSS BETTER THAN EXPECTED

By FRANK H. MELDON

Partly because of the general tendency to believe the worst news circulated by the bear, recent earnings statements for a good many listed corporations have been showing up better than expected. An outstanding example is that of General Motors. The bears had declared the first quarter would show the dividend no more than half earned, but the statement showed that 61 cents of the 75 cents a share needed had come into the corporation's coffers.

One swallow does not make a spring, according to the old saying. Selling short of its first quarter dividend.

$5,000,000 is not a black shadow for these days for a world's largest automobile corporation, especially with pickup signs appearing for the current quarter.

James D. Dole, president of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., says he does not expect to pay $200,000,000 in business of the company to suffer, despite efforts to develop pineapple business in the Philippines, Formosa, the Philippines and Cuba.

"Jim" Dole did not follow conventional lines in his business. Plain and Harvard over a quarter of a century ago he bought 60-acre homestead in the Hawaiian Islands for farming. His company now owns about 2000 acres of pineapple land, about half of the total acreage in the islands. He originated the canned Hawaiian pineapple, found today wherever grocers serve the public.

President A. R. Krohn of Huddellaker Corp. sends us this message today:

"March sales exceeded those of any month since September, 1929, and April, so far, is ahead of March."

"Net profits for the first quarter, after taxes and after deducting dividends on common stock, preferred stock and minority shareholders' interest, were $100,748.07, as compared with $131,311.31 for the first quarter of last year. The balance of net profits for the common stock, after deducting preferred stock, was $100,748.07, or 55 cents per share on 184,413 shares. Common stockholders received $100,748.07, or 55 cents per share on 184,413 shares. Common stockholders received $100,748.07, or 55 cents per share on 184,413 shares."

The report shows Huddellaker's common stock dividend for the first quarter comfortably covered.

New England Telephone reports for the quarter ended March 31, 1931, equal to all other charges of $3,089,835, equal to $2.32 a share on 1,329,222 shares of stock. The company's net profit of $2,763,413 in same period is $2.09 equal to $2.68 a share on 1,329,222 shares. Quarterly dividend requirement is $2 a share.

Confidence in the future of business in this country was expressed by Aberdeen & Rhine Clarks, Inc., Stone & Webster, Inc. and Sawyer, Wheeler and Blodgett Inc. at luncheon in the new Stone & Webster Building, Mr. Rhine Clarks, president, says under such conditions the company will continue to expand its empire to new high levels of production.

There is doubt as to whether or not the company had the confidence of Wall Street, but the consensus of opinion today is that the company will be bullish. General Motors at 40 or under, with a dividend yield of 7 1/2 per cent. Ende wide favor. To the utilities now incline to Columbia Gas around 32, with a yield of about 8 per cent, and notably in street car companies, favorable to United Corp.

One list of recommendations "Watch Motors should be bought on any weakness. International Telephone is worth a share. The first will amount to 50 in 40. American Telephone will be a good buy. American Telephone will be a good buy. American Telephone will be a good buy."

Stone & Webster's Dividend Is Earned. Preliminary estimate of earnings for the 12 months ending March 31, 1931, the company will report net income equal to slightly in excess of $3 a share on the 2,100,000 common shares outstanding, compared with $2.8 a share on 1,900,000 common shares for 1930. Today's estimate shows the dividends more than earned.

Standard Gas Year's Net $6.04 a Share. Standard Gas & Electric and subsidiary and affiliated companies had consolidated earnings for 1930 of $12,000,000 for 1930. This equaled $6.04 a share on the common and companies with surplus of $10,000,000 for 1930.

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

In contrast to yesterday's active market, dullness ruled in all sections today. Stocks which were sold steadily by the professional market for the first days gave mixed indications that some of the bears were covering.

United Corp. Leads in Demonstration. United Corp. was the leader today in a small demonstration in the low-priced utility. One wire company stated:

"We are about to start to build the first quarter would show the dividend no more than half earned, but the statement showed that 61 cents of the 75 cents a share needed had come into the corporation's coffers."

General Motors Leads in Rally. General Motors today led a rally in the popular motors, with Packard and Huddellaker at the same time selling fractionally higher. General Motors quickly closed 10.

One big house wired "General Motors at 40 or under is very attractive, with a yield of 7 1/2 per cent. First quarter earnings were very promising. The second quarter earnings were also very promising. All divisions of the company are doing well. We have received the preliminary dividend is absolutely safe."

Amusement Shares Show Up Better. Amusement shares showed up better in rallying periods today. They were quickly snapped up 2 points from 100 to 102, while Loew's performed prettily.

First Quarter Not Normally Best. International Telephone's first quarter, however, is not normally the best, and those close to the company are inclined to anticipate some improvement in the current quarter. Despite the fact that first quarter earnings will show a decline, the company expects the regular dividend quarterly dividend of 10 cents.

Columbia Gas Is Found Attractive. Following brokers' house comment on the company's report out from Wallingford a while ago:

"Columbia Gas & Electric is again around 32 and must be attractive with a yield of 8 per cent. Although the company is covering the $2 dividend, this is largely because the company has continued to anticipate its plans for extension of pipelines, very large size."

New York Bonds

General Bond Market. The bond market was active today, with a general upward movement in prices. The yield on 10-year bonds was 4 1/2 per cent.

Bankers Are Taking Cheerful Attitude. Notwithstanding the pronounced pessimism prevalent in speculative quarters, bankers are inclined to take a more cheerful attitude.

Stone & Webster's Dividend Is Earned. Preliminary estimate of earnings for the 12 months ending March 31, 1931, the company will report net income equal to slightly in excess of $3 a share on the 2,100,000 common shares outstanding, compared with $2.8 a share on 1,900,000 common shares for 1930. Today's estimate shows the dividends more than earned.
